++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry, bright in north on Wednesday. Dull, damp in south.

Today:
Southern areas cloudy with hill fog and some mainly light rain or drizzle. Northern areas will be dry with sunny spells becoming more widespread through the morning, these brighter conditions perhaps edging into northern central belt.

Tonight:
Northern areas will have a dry evening with clear spells. Cloud and light rain in the south will gradually edge north overnight, with the south turning drier later.

Thursday:
Some mostly rain for the northern Isles and Northwest. Mainly dry elsewhere, with variable cloud and some sunshine at times.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
A settled and dry spell of weather, with clear or sunny spells, but some cloudier areas too. Turning colder with some frost and fog.
